From The Desk of The President.....

As you all probably know we are embarking on a few special events this summer. The special event will take place on a very historic Landmark on the Susquehanna River. By on the Susquehanna River I mean literally on the Susquehanna River. This will be on the Millersburg ferry boat and it is the longest-running and oldest sternwheeler ferry boat on the river.

We have a few dates picked out and we will be doing them throughout the summer. You are all welcome to join us. Seating on the boat is limited so that means that at any given time there will probably be only two people on the boat. One will be the operator one will be the log keeper.

The hamfest is coming up later this month and we definitely need your help. As a club member you should realize that the hamfest is the big and almost only fundraiser that we have to support the events that club does throughout the year. I had asked for people to help throughout the year and only a few actually stepped up to help. I invite you to please contact me regarding the needs for the day of the hamfest. We need people to help Park cars and direct traffic. We need some to collect the money at the gate and that means more than one person.

Please feel free to enjoy the hamfest after we get people in the door and get them to where they belong. Being a volunteer, as many have learned in the past, can still give you time to sell your goods, and also help the club.

Field day of course happens the week before the hamfest. We will be bringing the trailer to the location where we will be doing hamfest, and we will need assistance to set up the antennas, run the cables, run the power, and anything else that is involved. We try to promote this event to the public and invite them to experience what amateur radio is all about, so when you come to the field day event, please wear something that is appropriate for a day of meeting the public. So often we laugh as you all know, qt the 9dd people we often see at amateur radio events. Don't be one of them. We do not want people laughing at us.

73, Hopefully I will see you at the meeting, or one of our events.

Special Events:

There is an often overlooked tactic in adding some spice to QSL chasing and amateur contacts that exist in the world of amateur radio. The Special Events Station often sparks interest among QSL chasers and those who are interested in making contact with stations that spout an interesting purpose. It is associated with a significant public event and is only operated for a brief time. And the typical impediment to doing this is often, 'I don't know how to do it!'. Well, read on. When you finish this article, you'll know exactly what to do.

First, any licensed amateur can apply for a Special Events call regardless of his license class. It is best for someone that has a general class license or higher to request the call because the general class bands are the best place to operate Special Events Stations.

Next, an event should be significant. Don't try to do a special event that is 'Johnny's birthday'. That will not get much attention. Instead, take on an event that gets some attention. One that our radio club recently undertook was the annual 'Bataan Memorial Death March Marathon' that honors the victims and surviving veterans of the horrible Bataan Death March that took place in the Philippines during World War II. That one got some notice.

Once you've chosen an event that is likely going to get attention, it comes down to planning. The first thing is deciding what call sign to operate under. It is all right to use a club call for the special event. However, a standard ham call isn't as attention getting as a one by one call sign issued through the vanity call program. You can get a one by one call sign for a limited number of days. The easiest way is to go to <http://www.1x1callsigns.org> and apply. There is no charge for this. You can search up and look for other special events by clicking on the 'Search 1x1 Calls' link on the left side of the page. Set your start date for today and the end date for several months from now. I did that just now and found an enormous number of Special Events Stations including such interesting events that honor the Navajo Code Talkers, IOTA (Island On The Air) Weekend, International Lighthouse/Lightship Weekend, and the list goes on and on. Once your call is registered, your event will appear there, too. Reading these listings will help you when you write your listing.

Don't overlook the field that provides a description of your event. The better described, the more likely you are to get noticed and worked on the day of the event. Be sure to include the URL to your Web site that gives information about your event.

Your QSL card should be different for each year. It should always be specific to that year's event (21st Annual Bataan Memorial Death March, date and year, etc.). Next year, the date and year may be different and it will be the 22nd Annual Bataan Memorial Death March. And you should use a different picture or design. Get a reputation for providing a nice QSL card. That may keep them coming back each year.
